“ Aunt Barb and I used to meet at Steak & Shake once a month. Barb enjoyed sharing photographs with me. She shared pictures of my mother with me that I never saw. She really loved showing me her photo album of her son Danny. Barb was the carrier of past memories and histories of the Lybargers and Stiths. I remember one of the last times we visited together, she was helping take care of women in their 80s and 90s. Barb looked at me and said she wanted to live to be 100.

*We'll miss you Aunt Barb.

“ One of my many favorite memories of Barb was seeing her being wheeled back to her room after her first outdoor visit with my wife.

With a big smile, the sun and breeze in her face, her head thrown back and her legs stretched forward I heard her exclaim "Whee, doesn't that feel wonderful!"

I pray that you may now eternally feel the sun and breeze in your face and the peace of being with our Lord, dear sweet Barbara

“ I will miss my dear friend. I have so many fond memories of the conversations from our more than 20 year friendship. She was a thoughtful caring friend and adored her family. So thankful to have "met" all of them through her. Her eyes always lit up when she would share about her family.
