

Candace Annette Kirkpatrick

July 25, 1954 - January 24, 2025

Candace Annette Ankrom-Kirkpatrick, aged 70, of Newark, Ohio, passed away on January 24, 2025. Born on July 25, 1954, Candace was known for her strong and determined spirit.

A lifelong resident of Newark, Candace attended Northridge for both her primary and high school education before advancing to study interior design. However, she found her true calling in being a devoted homemaker, creating a nurturing home filled with love and care for her family.

Candace was actively involved in her local Baptist community, where she found spiritual solace and fellowship. Her hobbies included sewing and reading, activities that reflected her meticulous nature and her love for quiet evenings.

She is survived by her husband, Bradley; her mother, Mary; her daughter, Heather; her son, Nathan, and his wife, Jessica; her sisters, Cindy (Joe Carbaugh) and Cheryl Kirkpatrick; her brothers, Tim (Ronnelle) Ankrom and Tracy (Sue) Ankrom; four grandchildren; and many nieces, nephews, and friends.

Candace was preceded in death by her paternal and maternal grandparents and her father, Jack Ankrom.

Private services will be held at a later date to honor Candace's life and legacy. Those who knew her will remember her as a pillar of strength and a source of unconditional love.

Day Funeral Service is honored to serve the family of Candace Kirkpatrick.
