David I'll always remember the many many memories of growing up and you always calling me the nick name you have me at birth that you continued to call me my entire life. All your crazy stories, always hanging out at my house, and our drives together. I really cannot believe you passed so suddenly. I grew up with you always telling me you were invincible and heck later in life I even started to believe it all the crap you went through and survived. I love you and I will certainly miss you. Please hug the family for me and tell my momma I think about every single day of my life. You will certainly be missed.
