“ You’ll always be missed pops! Glad I got to know you growing up and shared a part of my teenage years basically living with you lol, I’ll always miss the late night talks you had with us and how smart you were. I know you can rest now. Love always! Rest in Paradise!

“ Hey Pops, I know we didn’t spend as much time together as we probably should have, but it was definitely enough to create memories that will live on through me until we meet again. And I really hope that you know that you telling me how proud of me you were, it truly meant the world to me. And you should know that your words and advice helped to mold me into the man that I’ve become. I only wish I were able to Thank you in person and hug you at least one last time before you left. I guess it’ll have to wait until we cross paths again. I love you Dad. Watch down on us until we’re reunited.

“ I have known Jim for quite a few years. He stayed with me when he left Lima. I just read his last post (April 2025). He asked for forgiveness to all he may have messed over. He sounded like he finally found peace through the grace of God. I was so happy to hear that. RIP my old friend.
