“ At times like this we remember so many connections to family members and memories that cross the years. When we lived in, and later visited NY, Joel was always very kind. I can clearly picture Gerry and Joel laughing hysterically as they recounted stories of sabotaging Marty's bed. After all of the years, I'm still left with a beautiful image of Joel and Mom in the Bronx kitchen, kibitzing while cleaning up after a shared dinner.

“ Joel had a good sense of humor. We used to love laughing at Laurel & Hardy, The Honeymooners, and Groucho Marx. Talked about those happy moments for the rest of his life.
