

Noah Edward Stidham

June 29, 1942 - October 29, 2023

Noah Edward Stidham, 81, passed away on October 29, 2023 in Columbus, Ohio. He is survived by his wife, Janet; daughter, Lana; four grandchildren; one great grandchild; and brothers and sisters. He is preceded in death by his daughters, Tonya and Jobeth; mother, Helen; father, Jimmy; and brothers and sisters.

His daughter Lana paid this loving tribute to him: "Dad was born June 29th, 1942 in Hazard, Kentucky to his parents, Jimmy and Helen Stidham. He lived most of his life in Springfield, Ohio. My Dad came from a large family. I remember when I was younger, we would go to grandma's every Sunday for church. That is where I played and got to be with my aunts, uncles and cousins. As time went on, Mom and Dad tried to make the best of things with me and my older sisters. I was a Daddy's girl. I followed him everywhere. He would wake us up in the morning singing a goofy song, just trying to get us to smile before going to school.

He retired from Stevenson Heating & Air Conditioning after many years of service. He and I spent the last 5 years together. He lived with me while Mom was in a nursing home less than a mile away from us. She battles with Alzheimer's disease. We lost both of my sisters during this time. Dad and I leaned on each other a lot. I walked in his room one day and told him I felt like giving up. He said, "Never give up, your true spirit guide/God will see you through." That was the best advice he ever gave me. "He loved playing pool and fishing with his brother Kenneth. He loved his family and tried to help when he could. He had a very deep belief in God and I attribute that to his mother, whom he loved dearly. We will miss him and I can rest knowing he is home with his family."

Day Funeral Service is honored to serve the family of Noah Edward Stidham.
