Pamela May Hale was born on December 21, 1963 to Marilyn and Edward Hale. She attended Columbus Alternative High School before having children and becoming a home health aide. Later in life, she found joy in being a grandmother to over a dozen grandchildren. Pamela is preceded in death by her mother, Marilyn Hale and sister, Jasmine Hale. She leaves to cherish her memory her children, Shawnta Hale, Danielle Jamison, Johnathan (Quinsena) Jamison, Johnetta Williams and Shalanda Curtis; siblings, Thomas, Michael and Michele Hale; grandchildren, Shakyra Hale, Sinsirae Hale, Sariah Harley, Sirreal Hale, Brielle Galloway, JaLaunte Jamison, Tae'Jhon Jamison, Javier Napier, Azyah Brown, Dayjanya Harris, Michael Dawson Jr., Loveli-Jehne Stewart, Trey and Nadia; countless nieces and nephews; "daughters and sons" and a host of other relatives and special friends. Pamela was fighting kidney failure, congestive heart failure and many other battles. But she fought a good, long fight. She was at home "for the rest of her life," like she wanted to be, surrounded by love. She will be truly missed. Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. The one who believes in me will live, even though they die."-John 11:25. Day Funeral Service is honored to serve the family of Pamela Hale.
