“ *In Loving Memory of Pat
My deepest condolences.*

Pat made a profound impact on me and my family's lives. She was a true Christian, embodying the love of God through her kindness, compassion, and unwavering faith. Her love touched everyone she knew, and her legacy of grace and generosity will never be forgotten.

She opened her home to us, creating a tranquil retreat that felt like a mini vacation away from home. I'll never forget walking through her garden, where she shared fresh, healthy food and introduced me to all of the beautiful plants and flowers in her garden. Her joy in nature was contagious.

We cooked hot dogs over the open fire, made s'mores, talked, and laughed together. We will always remember our times spent at her home with her wonderful family and pets. We paddled across the pond in the boat, swam in the pond, caught fish, all while soaking in the peace and beauty she so graciously offered. Those small, magical moments stay with us.

She welcomed my mother. It was love, quiet generous, and real. She made sure everyone felt welcome. Even my dog was welcomed with open arms free to run and enjoy the outdoors, just like the rest of us. Her home was a sanctuary, and her heart was even more expansive.

For years, Pat and her family gave my children Christmases and birthdays filled with love and joy gifts and celebrations I couldn't provide at the time. Their generosity lifted us in ways words can't fully express.

Pat gave not just material things, but dignity, hope, and unforgettable memories.

I can't mention Pat without mentioning Bob. The experience of seeing them together through a relationship that lasted over 60 years was my first glimpse of what true love really looks like. Their bond was steady, tender, and full of grace. It shaped my understanding of love, commitment, and partnership in the most beautiful way.

I am honored to celebrate Pat joining Bob in heaven. Their love was a beacon here on Earth, and now it continues in eternity. The thought of them reunited brings comfort a love story that didn't end, but simply entered its most graceful chapter. Pat and Bob's love was more than a bond between two people it was a gift to everyone who had the privilege of witnessing it.

As we celebrate Pat's life and her joyful reunion with Bob in heaven, we carry forward the warmth they shared so freely. May we honor their legacy by loving as they did wholeheartedly, generously, and without hesitation. And may the light of Pat's love continue to shine through each of us, illuminating the path of kindness, faith, and grace she walked so beautifully.
