“Greatest fishing, camping trip ever was when Tessa, Walt, Octane and me (Jen) went down to this one camp ground where I've never been at before, mean while before we left for this trip Walt rented a Uhaul van, stoped by and got all of us fishing license in Millersport, OH. While traveling down on the Highway/Interstate Walt and Tessa had the drivers and passenger seat while octane and I had sat in the back of the van with a divider in between the front and back, Tessa with her two words said to little Walt "Hey look baby we have to keep the monkeys in the cage (talkin about octane and me since there was like bars inbetween us and it looked like we were behind bars) we had no air flow in the back what so ever unless we opened up the slider door but we couldn't or we'd loose all our camping gear, octane and I sat on plastic flimsy chairs that didn't last that long with little Walt's driving. Finally got to the camping site and Walt picked the steepest spot that wasn't even a camping spot to begin with, Little Walt backed the Uhaul Van down to this Hill while Tessa is out of the van directing him backwards. It rained all weekend that we were camping we got very stuck in mud ruts and had to be pulled out. We all laughed about it 2 weeks later cause it was crappy but we spent family time together, even if we all did get drinched like a dround rat and we all 4 was sick after wards

“ Oh how many memories I could name right now, I'll name one from awhile back first. I remember going to the fair one year and I had stepped off the step stole and scraped my whole back leg and mom had to get a picture as you was sitting there grinning while holding me 😂 I have way more but as your little sister those memories will forever be with me until we reunite. My most recent favorite memory is you waking up after us sleeping ALL day and half the night and say “is there anymore Oreos left” or anytime we walked to circle k or the dollar store for late night chocolates. Vampire diaries was our show too we watched that so much over the summer and little foot when we was younger:(I'll forever miss my sissy:((
