“ I was eleven yrs old when you were born and your mom and dad brought you home and I became your live in baby sitter. At the time I hatred it but as the days and months became years, we both became adults and very close friends. I will miss your phone calls when you were driving on the road. You would always start out Aunt Patty I miss Mom so much, we would both cry and talk about all the silly stuff Maggie did. I thank you and will cherish those moments for ever. Until we meet again. Love you.

“ Vicky and I were cousins of a time passed when Faimly got together we played and laughed while our parents played cards. We a dinners together trips together Faimly was everything we dressed one cousin up as a girl and would send him down for the parents to see we had spaghetti and meatballs made by my uncle Harry, Vicky's father it was a great time always. Vicky I will miss you and always love you. Say hey to Chucky Patrick your mom and dad and the rest of the family we will all meet again and and play again as kids in the forever home.

“ I used to get random phone calls outta the blue with the question- you wouldn't happen to be making any chicken and noodles soon are ya? Followed by a giggle and wanting to know how soon we could get together. I will miss those phone calls. Between Vicki and Tina and myself it seemed that we became the go to people along with Beth when it came to questions about the family. She followed in Uncle Harry's step by just stopping in without warning for a surprise visit and bringing sunshine and smiles and lots of laughter. Such a bright soul gone too soon. I'm glad that she's no longer in pain but I'm also selfish enough to wish she was still here where I could hug her. God's blessings on her.

“ Vicki was one the best and longest friends in my lifetime and I'm so fortunate to have 50+ years of memories in my heart with Vicki of friendship, love and fun growing up as kids into adults, into our older years. Sometimes I don't know how my Mom, and Maggie & Harry put up with us! I love you girlie and I will miss you so very much. Be at peace Vicki. ❤️
